TESTIMONY - UPPER SACRAMENTO RIVER INVESTIGATION HEARING

This is the time set for the joint meeting between the Board of Supervisors and the Water Resources Board to discuss the testimony to be given by John Perez, Chairman, Water Resources Board, at the hearing being conducted by the California Water Commission on December 3, 1959, on the Upper Sacramento River Investigation.

The following reports are submitted by Bill Minton, County Executive:

1. Report from J. D. Willis, Manager, Shasta Mosquito Abatement District, relative to the potential mosquito problem if Iron Canyon Dam is constructed.
2. Report from Myron R. Harrison, County Assessor, indicating acreage and assessed valuation which would be lost if Iron Canyon Dam is constructed.
3. Report from John Reginato, General Manager, Shasta-Cascade Wonderland Association, relative to the recreational aspects and effect on fishery resources if Iron Canyon Dam is constructed.

Bruce Wade, Agricultural Commissioner, reports on the possible agricultural loss and states that an estimate, projected to 1975, indicates a loss of one-half million dollars annually.

Donald D. Chamberlin, Director, Department of Public Works, comments that the County could not afford to lose any of the access roads now in existence in the area and the problem would be increased by the lake.

The preliminary draft of the testimony of John Perez, to be presented on behalf of Shasta County at the hearing, is read by Bruce Wade in the absence of John Perez.

A general discussion is held and it is decided that copies of the reports are to be submitted at the hearing along with the testimony. During the discussion, Bill Jeffs comments that a serious problem possibly would result by the creation of mud flats due to the fluctuation of the water. This would also create a loss of recreational potential. Other comments, such as, the high cost of development, other areas of County not being developed due to lack of funds, that recreational planning should be included in project, are mentioned.

The following questions are asked and as a result are to be incorporated in the testimony:

1. What is the possibility of increasing the height of the dam anytime after construction?
2. Of what benefit is the dam to Shasta County?

After further discussion it is decided by the group that the testimony and facts to be presented by John Perez at the hearing will bear out opposition to the proposed Iron Canyon Dam.

The Board of Supervisors and the Board of Water Resources will complete the testimony to include the above items and review the completed report at their regular meeting on November 23, 1959.
