

Over-Detention and Inadvertent Releases

603.1 PURPOSE AND SCOPE

This policy is intended to provide guidance to staff and management in the event of over-detention or inadvertent release.

603.1.1 DEFINITIONS

Inadvertent release - Any instance of an inmate being mistakenly released.

Over-detention - Any instance of an inmate being mistakenly detained beyond his/her scheduled release date.

603.2 POLICY

It is the policy of this office to reasonably ensure that over-detention and inadvertent releases do not occur.

603.3 OVER-DETENTION

Any custody staff member who discovers or receives information of an over-detention, or a complaint from an inmate regarding over-detention (which could be discovered through a grievance), should immediately notify the Watch Commander (see the Inmate Grievances Policy).

The Watch Commander should direct the classification deputy to determine the correct release date of the inmate and to report the findings to the Watch Commander.

Inmates who are found to be over-detained shall be processed for immediate release in accordance with the End of Term Release Policy.

603.4 INADVERTENT RELEASE

Whenever an inadvertent release is discovered, the custody staff member making the discovery shall immediately notify the Watch Commander. The notification shall be documented in the daily activity log.

603.4.1 INADVERTENT RELEASE INVESTIGATION

The Watch Commander should direct the classification deputy to determine the cause of the inadvertent release.

The Watch Commander will coordinate a response based upon the seriousness of the threat the inmate may pose to the community. The threat assessment should be based upon the inmate's criminal history and the reason he/she is currently in custody, among other factors.

In the case of an inadvertent release, the Watch Commander should immediately notify the Facility Manager and ensure a report is completed.

An appropriate evaluation of the circumstances shall be made to determine whether the inadvertent release should be classified as an escape.
